Farmer's Institute.

The most successful Farmer's Institute meeting ever held under the auspices of the Wetaskiwin Agricultural Society was held on Wednesday afternoon in Gould's Hall. A large number of farmers were present and much interest was taken in the papers read. A. R. Dickson was elected to be the chair. The first paper read was by Capt. Chas. B. Phillips, of Battle Lake, on "The Economics of Farming." This paper was quite lengthy and covered the ground thoroughly and provoked a lively discussion in which a large number took part. Another paper was also read by John West on "The Profits of Small Farms in Alberta." This paper went on to show that it cannot be carried on profitably, that its crowds the work on the farm into small periods of the year, that it fills the land with noxious weeds and that it tends to sparse settlement of the country and leads to high taxes, bad roads and poor schools. A full discussion also took place on this subject in which many took part. A hearty vote of thanks was then unanimously passed, thanking Messrs. Phillips and West for the very interesting and profitable papers prepared and read by them.

We purpose publishing these papers in the columns of The Times. On page 2 of this issue will be found a portion of Mr. Phillips' essay on "The Economics of Farming."

The Carnival.

The carnival last Monday evening was not quite as well attended as the one in December, owing no doubt to the snow which fell during the day. The band was present and enlivened the proceedings with some of their sweetest music. An enjoyable time was spent by those who attended. The prizes were won by Miss Dolly Walker as "Mrs Run up the Creek" and Jack Walker as "Pierette." The judges were D. Ward and Jas. Quinlan. Those in costume were:

Leon Young—Snow-boy.

The St. Valentine's masquerade ball given last Friday evening was a very pleasant affair and was largely attended.

Winnipeg Tribune—"Miss Kerr's pathetic and humorous recitations are delivered in an exceedingly clever manner, while Miss McCoy's rendering of the old familiar Scotch melodies is especially fine. These talented young ladies are worthy of the recognition wherever they entertain." They appear at Herie's Hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 25th. Plan at Willow's book store.

Additional Town Topics.

Messrs. John E. Bull and C. A. O'Brien, of Calgary, were in town this week looking into the advisability of installing a telephone system in town. Mr. Bull was recently appointed to the position of inspector of the Northwest district, of the Bell Telephone Company. This company purpose inaugurating a policy of extension and expansion in the west as soon as possible and these gentlemen are looking over the district with a view to installing a system if they receive sufficient encouragement.

H. D. Mills received the sad intelligence on Tuesday of the death of his brother, Frank Preston Mills, of near Higginsville, Lafayette county, Missouri. Some of our citizens will know the deceased as he was here visiting his brother some three years ago. He was 40 years of age and leaves a widow, one son and one daughter to mourn his loss. Mr. H. D. Mills has the sympathy of the community in his sad loss. This is the first break in his family.

dancing, but for the setting up of the calf for the purpose of worshipping thereof.

Because a golden calf was made in early Bible time. A preacher at Wetaskiwin said That dancing is a crime.

Now what he meant, of course he knows. And dancers can just laugh To think that they are damned, you know. For Aaron's blooming calf.

At Hillside on Wednesday evening things in one corner were very breezy and language of a very inflammatory nature was freely indulged in, and all this simply because two young gallants rushed up with a sleigh to invite a young lady to a jolly evening party. Barkis was willing but her guardians after giving their consent for her to go, hastily repented and ordered the two young men to quit and not come there ruling the house. Now had this occurred in medieval times, it is hard to say how it would have ended, but according to records force of arms would have been resorted to, failing a peaceable abduction. Breezes are still blowing and the moon still at the full.

Diana

A coal mine was opened last week three miles east of Diana and a few loads of splendid coal have already been sent to Wetaskiwin.

The literary meetings at the Roseland school are proving to be a great success. They are always well attended and are creating much interest.

The work on the three bridges at Rodberg's crossing was completed last week and the old bridge material was taken away. This will give us a good safe crossing during the wet season.

Chas. Rodberg is putting up a comfortable stopping house in connection with his feed stable, store and lunch counter business. Diana is a very pretty berg on the main road east from Wetaskiwin and a good hotel here would do well.

Pigeon Lake.

Dan Hudkins, F. & R's jolly foreman, went to Lacombe last week on business.

Mr. Rowley is down on Rattle River, scaling some logs that are being got out by jobbers.

While at target practice with a thirty-two caliber rifle, Mrs. Hudkins came near losing an eye.

E. Rhian, editor of the Ponoka Herald, and Mr. Alger stopped over night with the F. & R. boys.

Dan Hudkins is rather over-jawed at present, but will soon be better as he had one of his molars extracted.

Billy Jones, Ponoka's jolly liveryman, shook hands with his many friends in the camp the other day.

W. J. Milne and wife visited the logging camp last week and while here Mr. Milne took some fine photos of our scenery.

The largest number of logs hauled at one load was eighty. D. H. Tugman's team taking the load to the landing. The same team hauled one load that scaled 5,367 feet.

The north-east side of Pigeon Lake is crowded with busy men at present, they being Foulgen & Rowley's loggers, and some big work is being done. C. Bishop and Elmer Holmberg fell and cut 236 logs, which scaled 19,376 feet.

Lewisville

Mr. Bussard is building an addition to his house.

A. J. McLaughlin is building a house and granary.

J. Meade has returned home, after an absence of a month at his homestead south of Quarrel Lake.

Farmers are all busy, not like the little bees gathering their winter's food, but hauling up their summer wood.

Wm. Abbott, of Cherry Grove, passed through these parts on Saturday escorting a new settler to New Norway P.O.

Ora Porter received a bad cut in the foot while chopping in the timber last week, which will lay him up for some time.

The Hesperian Literary last Friday evening, despite the cold weather had a full house, and an interesting program was rendered. Friday evening of this week quotations from various authors will be given, besides the usual program.

Highland Park

Ole Berg, of Cherry Grove visited here last week.

Mr. Size, of Battle River, visited C. F. Hezars last Sunday.

We have got nice weather in the park and the ground is almost bare.

Mr. Thalen, of Lewisville, hauled in a load of lumber on his land last week.

Messrs Waldie, Backstrom and Nordlund drove to town last week. They say the roads are getting pretty bare.

A number of friends gathered at the home of E. Stromberg on Saturday night, and surprised Mrs. Stromberg, it being her birthday.

A son came to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Backstrom, last Tuesday morning. Frank is all smiles. We need lots of that kind in here, the more the better.

John G. Berg, and son, of Wetaskiwin, visited here last Sunday. Mr. Berg preached to a large audience. On his way out from town he lost his bible and hymn book, and he would be pleased to get them again. The finder is requested to leave the books at the Wetaskiwin Hotel.

Silver Creek

On February 8th, one of the popular young men of the district conceived the idea, while enroute to the song service which is held on Sunday evenings at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cole, that he could remove obstructions from the highway by velocity, propelled by horse power. Result: Broken harness and cutter, horses on the prairie, while the occupants finished the trip in another sleigh.

Gathered by our own staff of wide-awake correspondents.

Millet

Mr. Froning the blacksmith is building a dwelling house.

Millet is still keeping its prospects of a boom in spring.

We are pleased to report the report the recovery of Mrs. Connely

Wm. Pearce, is busy this week, moving his saw mill from Coal lake to Millet, where he will be working till spring.

John W. West and O. Sickertive, both of Wetaskiwin have been looking over our town in search of a good location, to build a large general store.

Rev. Mr. Kennedy, Methodist minister, while out driving a couple of days ago, had the mishap to have a runaway. His cutter was broken up, but fortunately he received no injuries.

Rev. Mr. Grosse, Scandinavian Presbyterian minister, of Wetaskiwin, who has been favoring us with weekly services, stated during his last visit, that an English Presbyterian minister will be stationed here after May first. In consequence a Presbyterian church will be looked forward to as they are already trying to decide where to build.

Spruce Springs

Geo. Campbell took another load of oats out to his ranch this week.

Albert Lee expects to move on his farm sometime in the near future.

H. J. Schoolcraft and wife visited with Mr. and Mrs. Cole Wednesday evening.

Miss Nettie Polly escorted by Miss Maude Campbell made a trip to Wetaskiwin Saturday, returning Sunday.

Only seven votes were cast at the school meeting Monday. This shows how little interest some people take in matters of importance.

A couple of fellows are "working" the "wonderful gas light combination" racket on the people in this district, but few "bits" at their bate, as their breath gives them away.

Young men take warning from the accident which occurred Sunday evening to a young couple with a fast team who were racing with another rig when they ran up a tree before they knew it, and when they came down the young lady was unconscious, the gentleman escaping uninjured, but the team never slackened their speed and ran in opposite directions. One was caught the same night and the other the following morning without any injury except being somewhat stiff. Next time see that the road is clear.

Hillside

On Wednesday last a surprise party visited the house of Mr. Featherstone, where dancing and games were indulged in and a very pleasant evening was spent.

I am pleased to note that our neighbor, Mr. Sketch, has got the contract for building the chimney for the school house. He understands his business and is not likely to imitate a miniature leaning tower of Pisa, similar to that erected not many miles from Hillside.

The bees, who arrived on Thursday last to show their industry on the building of Mr. Mars, were obliged to skip in quick style, owing to the severity of the weather. We hope that at the next assembly the elements will be more kind, for we all wish to see Mr. Mars and family comfortably housed and settled amongst us.

Two of our trustees were in a jolly mood on Monday evening and I suppose so must have been their host, but the journey home beggars description. Suffice it to say that one of our "lights" found it safer to return home reclining than in an upright position, and his neighbor kept his three sheets in the wind hauled close, the third trustee was unaware of the orgie and was safely home, whilst things were humming, but why there should have been cries and shouts for the fourth trustee is rather mystical.

On Tuesday evening last some thirty people arrived in sleighs to give Major and Mrs. MacFarlane a surprise. The night was a lovely one and the spirits of the visitors were high, the host and hostess received the numerous company in good style and a jolly evening was spent. Songs, dancing, cards, games, etc., were indulged in till about 4.30 a.m. Mr. Morrison, of Wetaskiwin, who was one of the surprise party, very thoughtfully brought over his gramophone and gave a capital exhibition of its power of amusement.

At one of the numerous places of worship in town a few evenings ago, a foreign preacher mingled with his interesting and splendid sermon the ever entertaining subject of dancing and denounced it in very exciting and pungent language, with a tragic story thrown in—to wit, that he had given up the "terrible" Terpsichorean revels because a man was shot in the ball room where he was. Great Scott! Some men have been shot in churches and chapels. Would it be sensible for the congregations of these places to quit on account of that? Let common sense reply. His other argument against dancing, viz: that the people who danced at Aaron's golden calf were damned, is paltry and misleading, for they were certainly not damned on account of the
